Release to Undergraduate Health Professions Advisor

I hereby authorize the AAMC to release a record of my PREview scores to the health professions advisor and the health professions advisory committee of the undergraduate institution that will provide my letters of evaluation to schools of medicine and/or where I will complete the courses required for application to medical school. Furthermore, if I applied for fee assistance through the AAMC Fee Assistance Program, and in my fee assistance application agreed to release award information to my health professions advisor, that information will be made available along with my test scores.

Note: If you release your AMCAS application to your health professions advisor, the released information will include your PREview scores regardless of your answer to this question.

Agreement

- I confirm the above name matches my government issued identification that I will present on test day.
- I am taking the PREview exam in order to apply solely to a medical school (MD or DO).
- I have read the PREview Essentials and agree to its terms and conditions.

Step 2

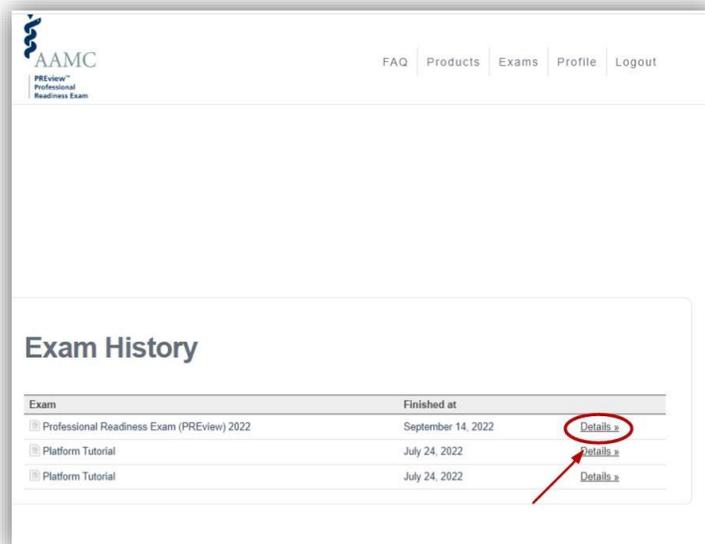

Select the “History” link below the description of the available exams.

The screenshot shows the AAMC website's 'Exams' page. At the top, there are navigation links for 'FAQ', 'Products', 'Exams', 'Profile', and 'Logout'. The main heading is 'Exams'. Below this, there is a paragraph explaining the exam and a 'Please purchase the AAMC PREview™ Professional Readiness Exam 2022 through the Products tab.' instruction. A yellow box highlights a 'Please note' section about the 24-hour military clock. Below that, the 'Available Exams' section shows a table with one entry: 'Platform Tutorial' with a 'Write exam >' button. A red circle highlights the 'History' link next to this entry. Below the table is a 'Test Your Equipment' section with a 'Test It Out' button. At the bottom, another yellow box contains technical requirements for writing the exam.

Step 3

Select the “Details” link next to the administration of the PREview exam for which you wish to view the scores. Your score report will be displayed on the next screen. If you have difficulty please capture a screen shot of the error and send to askpreview@aamc.org.

The screenshot shows the 'Exam History' page on the AAMC website. It features a table with two columns: 'Exam' and 'Finished at'. The table lists three exams: 'Professional Readiness Exam (PREview) 2022' (finished September 14, 2022), 'Platform Tutorial' (finished July 24, 2022), and another 'Platform Tutorial' (finished July 24, 2022). A red circle highlights the 'Details >' link next to the first exam entry.
