AL	University of Alabama School of Medicine	2018 marked the third consecutive year that UAB Medicine had been named a Leader in LGBTQ Healthcare Equality by the Healthcare Equity Index, and UAB was named best college for LGBTQ students in Alabama by BestColleges and Campus Pride in 2019. UAB's campus is home to the UAB Student Sexual Health Clinic and LGBTQ Mental Health and Wellness Clinic, which provide comprehensive, supportive and affirming care. Student-led groups in the School of Medicine include MedPride, a community-building organization for LGBTQ students, residents, fellows, faculty and their allies.
AL	University of South Alabama College of Medicine	MedPride and Allies is the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer (LGBTQ) student organization at the University of South Alabama College of Medicine. Our goal is to increase visibility of LGBTQ students, develop a supportive and welcoming community throughout the healthcare system, and increase awareness of the need of LGBTQ patients.
AR	University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences College of Medicine
AZ	University of Arizona College of Medicine	Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion/Student Wellness Committee/House & Society Groups/Student Clubs
AZ	University of Arizona College of Medicine - Phoenix	The LGBTQ in Medicine student interest group serves our campus' connection to the LGBTQ community in Phoenix. With a focus on LGBTQ health and social issues, the group seeks to foster a welcoming, supportive environment for our students and offer education about the health issues and difficulties affecting LGBTQ individuals, their families, and communities. The group is dedicated to keeping the student body informed about issues surrounding the LGBTQ community by hosting social events, guest speakers, patient panels, and connecting students with LGBTQ events and service opportunities throughout the Valley. Our Office of Diversity and Inclusion also offers MedSafeZone and Transgender Affirming Healthcare training opportunities.
CA	California Northstate University College of Medicine	LGBTQIA Student Interest Group
CA	California University of Science and Medicine-School of Medicine	Please check our website for updates.
CA	Kaiser Permanente School of Medicine
CA	Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California	The MedLambda LGBTQIA student interest group encourages building and supporting a queer community at Keck by hosting social events for LGBTQIA to meet each other. Members make an effort to be visibly out, so that students know Keck is inclusive and welcoming to LGBTQIA peers.
CA	Loma Linda University School of Medicine	The University has an official club for LGBTQ students and a resource site that provides groups, mental health support, and a list of educational and community support resources for LGBTQ students.
CA	Stanford University School of Medicine	LGBTQ Meds: As an activist and social organization, we are dedicated to raising awareness of queer health issues and promoting equal social and political rights for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer people. LGBTQ-Meds additionally serves as a support group, safe space, and social group for all medical students, undergraduates, faculty and staff, regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity, who are interested in queer health issues. https://med.stanford.edu/lgbtqmeds/aboutus.html
CA	University of California, Davis, School of Medicine	UC Davis is committed to fostering a supportive environment that maximizes the educational experience of all medical students, including students from culturally and socioeconomically diverse backgrounds. The health system often hosts and or sponsors local, state and regional meetings of medical student organization's including Latino Medical Student Association, Filipino Americans in Medicine, Student National Medical Association, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Students in Medicine. The mission of the Office of Student and Resident Diversity is to ensure the success of medical students from diverse backgrounds.

CA	University of California, Irvine, School of Medicine	The School of Medicine is committed to supporting students who identify as LGBTQIA through student services, student organizations, and community advocacy.
CA	University of California, Los Angeles David Geffen School of Medicine	The David Geffen School of Medicine offers an active Pride Alliance focused on a strong school-wide community that supports LGBTQ+ individuals and can meet the health needs of LGBTQ+ patients with compassionate and competent care. Pride Alliance is a support network for UCLA medical students, residents and faculty who identify as gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, intersex, queer, asexual, two-spirit, questioning, and allies. In addition to providing networking for students, staff, and faculty, the alliance also provides service in the community and advocacy for change. The UCLA LGBTQ Campus Resource Center also provides counseling, networking, education, and advocacy.
CA	University of California, Riverside School of Medicine	Established in 1993, the LGBT Resource Center provides support, education, and advocacy regarding sexual orientation and gender identity/expression for the UC Riverside community and beyond. For additional information on campus support systems for gender and sexual minority students, please see: https://out.ucr.edu/
CA	University of California, San Diego School of Medicine	The support of our gender and sexual minority students starts in Orientation Week, which includes a session on our LGBTQ+ community. We offer guidance and fiscal support to our active LGBTQ student organization for well-attended, school-wide events, such as a “Rainbow Pin Ceremony”, Transgender Week of Visibility, and National Coming out Day, and attendance at an annual Southern California LGBTQ Conference. We help our students to create community with faculty and each other through events such as an annual Health Sciences LGBT mixer, and connect them with undergraduate campus LGBT resources. Our commitment to an inclusive and culturally humble community extends to our curriculum, which includes meaningful electives co-developed with students (an example of which is an “Intersections of LGBTQ Health Elective”), panel discussions by LGBTQ health providers, and a Health Equity Thread in which all of our students learn about health inequities in sexual and gender minority communities.
CA	University of California, San Francisco, School of Medicine
CO	University of Colorado School of Medicine	The Office of Diversity Equity and Inclusion's mission is to support all students and help with creating a sense of belonging and inclusion, to be advocates of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion and to build community within the medical campus and beyond. As above, the office can be reached at 303-724-4537, and welcomes inquiries from all applicants.
CT	Frank H. Netter MD School of Medicine at Quinnipiac University	Netter greatly values diversity in all its forms. Institutional and organizational assistance is provided to encourage and support groups underrepresented in medicine through faculty and staff advising, curricular enhancements, and student interest group engagement.
CT	University of Connecticut School of Medicine	Reach Out student organization for LGBTQ students.
CT	Yale School of Medicine	The Dean's Advisory Council on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and Intersex Affairs collaborates with other groups to cultivate visible supports and a vibrant, connected community of LGBTQ+ individuals and their allies at YSM. The Advisory Council helps guide the expansion of LGBTQ+ health research, and coordinates efforts to foster an inclusive, patient-centered environment in which tailored care is available for LGBTQ+ patients. Furthermore, the Advisory Council oversees initiatives that prepare our trainees to serve all of their patients with excellence, regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity. Information about this important resource can be found online: https://medicine.yale.edu/lgbtqi/

FL	Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine at Florida Atlantic University	At the FAU College of Medicine, we support and promote diversity and inclusiveness. We work hard to create a health workforce of physicians and scientists capable of delivering high quality, equitable health care to all Americans and capable of eliminating health disparities, in not only our local communities, but globally as well. We have also created programs and policies to ensure not only the racial, ethnic and cultural diversity, but also the cognitive diversity of its students, faculty, and staff. Diversity goes beyond race and ethnicity and includes factors such as gender, educational background, individual achievement, research experience, non-traditional academic backgrounds, socioeconomic disadvantage, and other life adversity.
FL	Florida International University Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine	The Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine is committed to ensuring a safe and inclusive environment for LGBTQI students, faculty, staff and allies. Through our curriculum we provide knowledge about LGBTQI health and disparities impacting this community and how to effectively address their needs. The Office of Diversity and Inclusion (ODI) has created a culture of awareness, providing important programming in collaboration with our student led organization, Medical Gay Straight Alliance (MEDGSA). MEDGSA champions and empowers the LGBTQI community at HWCOCM and aligns them with straight allies. MEDGSA promotes advocacy and education for the larger student body and provides an outlet for socializing, finding support and encouragement and talking about challenges faced on and off campus.
FL	Florida State University College of Medicine	The mission of the Council on Diversity and Inclusion is to ensure that diversity and inclusion are upheld as core institutional values. The Council seeks to increase awareness of the importance of diversity among faculty, staff, and students, by providing a safe place where individual differences are appreciated and uniqueness is supported and nurtured. Current and Ongoing Initiatives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Provide a safe space for nonjudgmental listening and confidential mentoring—for anyone—on academic or social issues * Sponsor annual Grand Rounds events * Provide diversity and inclusion orientation sessions for new FSU COM students and employees * Select and feature recommended resources for diversity and inclusion affairs at COM and FSU * Develop diversity and inclusion training and education opportunities for FSU COM * Partner with FSU COM stakeholders to centralize mechanisms for faculty, staff, and students to confidentially report incidents and concerns
FL	Nova Southeastern University Dr. Kiran C. Patel College of Allopathic Medicine	Inclusion and Diversity (ID) Council, advances the mission of Nova Southeastern University by helping to facilitate the infusion of inclusive consciousness and behavior within the entire NSU community and beyond. The council's goal is to promote and support a range of services and programs that enhance inclusive excellence.
FL	University of Central Florida College of Medicine	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The COM "LGBTQ+ Medical Student Allies" student organization is very active in supporting all students. https://med.ucf.edu/student-affairs/student-services/student-organizations/ - The COM Counseling and Wellness Office located at the COM is also available to all medical students who need to privately discuss any anxiety, stress, or other life concerns. This office has also trained several upper-classmen to assist other medical students to cope with the stressors and anxieties of medical school. https://med.ucf.edu/student-affairs/counseling-wellness-services/counseling-services/ - Many members of the COM staff and faculty are trained and identified as Safe Zone members. These trained individuals are known to LGBTQ+ students as a safe place to go for support. - There are annual COM events such as the Zora Festival and a Partners in Pride BBQ that are well attended by COM students and members.

IA	University of Iowa Roy J. and Lucille A. Carver College of Medicine	EQUAL Meds is an active student group with strong support from the administration, faculty, staff, and students. EQUAL Meds mission is to educate our community on health issues that pertain to lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and/or questioning (LGBTQ) patients and to provide a support network for LGBTQ health professional students. EQUAL Meds also provides a forum where LGBTQ identified students can interact with other graduate and students as well as with faculty and staff from the larger University of Iowa Health Care community. EQUAL Meds sponsors social gatherings with opportunities for networking, mentoring, and creating community. OutList is a voluntary and public webpage that lists LGBTQ+ identified community members' names, affiliations, and e-mail addresses. Additionally, there is an option to list specific gender identity, sexual identity, and/or pronouns. The community members may include faculty, staff, residents, fellows, post docs, and/or students.

IL	Carle Illinois College of Medicine	We celebrate diversity in all its forms. Diversity encompasses the dimensions of race, gender identity, ethnicity, age, culture, national origin, language, religious belief, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic class, lifestyle preferences, political ideology, academic background and veteran status. Our mission and vision inform a fundamental belief in the importance of recruiting underrepresented groups at all levels including students, residents, faculty and staff. Carle Illinois is dedicated to recruiting women in STEM, as well as individuals from a range of academic and socioeconomic backgrounds, including first generation college students.
IL	Chicago Medical School at Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine & Science	Rosalind Franklin University supports and fosters an inclusive campus community. For more information visit the Diversity & Inclusion website: https://www.rosalindfranklin.edu/about/strategic-initiatives/diversity-inclusion/ .
IL	Loyola University Chicago Stritch School of Medicine	Our Jesuit tradition calls all faculty, students, and staff to intentionally honor the dignity of all persons and promote social justice. To that end, we aim to value the contribution of all individuals and create an environment that inspires a cadre of talented people to become leaders in science and medicine. By fostering a vibrant and dynamic culture of inclusion, the Stritch School of Medicine will continue to welcome opportunities to address challenges in health care and excel in academic medicine. At Stritch, we advocate for and support the interests of student affinity groups, not limited to but including students of color, those under-represented in medicine (UIM), LGBTQ students, veterans, first-generation and/or low-income students, as well as students with differing abilities.
IL	Northwestern University The Feinberg School of Medicine	Northwestern University and the Feinberg School of Medicine are deeply committed to creating an inclusive campus setting for all students. Feinberg's Office of Diversity and Inclusion organizes and supports specific initiatives for gender and sexual minority students, including LGBTQ Safe Space and Ally training, LGBTQ+ Alliance student group, FSM LGBT OutList and FSM AllyList, and access to additional Northwestern and Chicago community support resources. From community training to ongoing initiatives that raise awareness and discussion about gender and sexual minority issues, the Feinberg family works to ensure a welcoming and supportive environment. For more information, please visit this page: https://www.feinberg.northwestern.edu/diversity/
IL	Rush Medical College of Rush University Medical Center	Rush University's LGBTQ+ student affinity group, Rush Pride, offers a robust program of social, service, and advocacy activities. Faculty who identify as LGBTQ+ are well-represented throughout the institution and are involved in many aspects of undergraduate medical education. Rush University Medical Center has been a Human Rights Campaign (HRC) Foundation Healthcare Equality Index (HEI) Leader since 2009 and the Rush University System for Health recently launched Affirm: The Rush Center for Gender, Sexuality & Reproductive Health.
IL	Southern Illinois University School of Medicine	Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, Dr. Wendi El-Amin, Associate Dean For the Office of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion: 217-545-7334 wel-amin@siumed.edu
IL	University of Chicago Division of the Biological Sciences The Pritzker School of Medicine	OUTPatient, the LGBTQ+ people in medicine group, provides a supportive, social forum for both LGBTQ students and allies. OUTPatient also offers education to the Pritzker community on LGBTQ related topics. The University of Chicago's Center for Identity + Inclusion also offers extensive resources for students.
IL	University of Illinois College of Medicine	The Medical Student Learning Environment Office supports students around their status as gender and sexual minority persons. We have active student organizations that are represented on all institutional initiatives. We have faculty mentors on campus who specialize in LGTBQ health and policy. All faculty advisors have anti-bias and sensitivity to gender and sexuality training.
IN	Indiana University School of Medicine	https://medicine.iu.edu/about/diversity/
KS	University of Kansas School of Medicine	As part of our Core Values, the University of Kansas Medical Center is committed to creating and maintaining a diverse and inclusive learning and working environment that nurtures the growth and development of our students, faculty, staff and patients. Through various resources, training and networking opportunities, KUMC seeks to create an atmosphere of inclusion and affirmation for LGBT individuals. Find more information here: http://www.kumc.edu/diversity/lgbt-resources.html

KY	University of Louisville School of Medicine	Specific University and community support systems are detailed at http://louisville.edu/medicine/ume/ume-office/equality/resources#university-of-louisville . Since 2014 U of L SOM has served as the nation's premier site for training future physicians on the unique healthcare needs of people who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, gender nonconforming, or born with differences of sex development, based on medical education competencies from the AAMC. While some educational models dissociate this content from the rest of the curriculum (e.g., in elective or stand-alone learning opportunities), we integrate this information throughout the curriculum. We believe that a competent physician must be skilled in the care of all patients within the community and able to approach each patient with sensitivity, compassion, and the knowledge necessary to promote health and wellness. See http://louisville.edu/medicine/ume/ume-office/equality
LA	Louisiana State University School of Medicine in New Orleans
LA	Louisiana State University School of Medicine in Shreveport	https://www.lsuhs.edu/our-schools/school-of-medicine/student-affairs
LA	Tulane University School of Medicine	Tulane University School of Medicine supports and fosters an inclusive campus community. For more information visit the Office of Multicultural Affairs at: https://medicine.tulane.edu/home/administration/office-multicultural-affairs or Tulane's Medical Student Pride Alliance at: https://tmedweb.tulane.edu/clubs/mspa/ .
MA	Boston University School of Medicine	BUSM has several opportunities for support for gender and sexual minority students. Several groups are available for students, for example, BU Medical Campus Pride, Sexual Health and Medicine, and BUSM Service PRIDE. The Boston Medical Center is also home to a robust multidisciplinary clinical center for transgender medicine and a transgender research group which can (like other centers and departments) provide mentorship and research opportunities.
MA	Harvard Medical School	Since 2011, the Office for Recruitment and Multicultural Affairs (ORMA) has been providing individual support, career guidance, and leadership development opportunities to LGBTQIA+ medical students as well as the student club, LAHMS. Harvard was one of the first medical schools to allow students to self-identity on the secondary application and our numbers of students in the first year class have steadily grown to 15% LGBTQIA+ in the Class of 2023. We have advisors skilled in counseling and mentoring LGBTQ students. Recently, HMS received a grant to overhaul the curriculum to include Sexual and Gender Minority Health Equity. This work is spearheaded by a team of faculty, fellows, students, and staff. There are also more than 300 LGBTQIA+ faculty and allies on the longstanding HMS "OutList" who are available for mentoring, research, and clinical care opportunities. Harvard is proud to be a leader in ensuring our LGBTQIA+ students both succeed and thrive.
MA	Tufts University School of Medicine	In addition to the supports that the OSA gives to all students, TUSM has an Office for Multicultural Affairs (OMA) that specializes in directly supporting gender and sexual minority students. The OMA helps to assess and direct school resources tailored to the individual needs of students and also actively creates inclusive and supportive spaces for students to convene, share and advocate. An example of an advocacy space and support system for gender and sexual minority students is the Multicultural Fellows Council – a student advisory group to the OMA that meets monthly to share, assess and discuss the needs of students from all backgrounds and identities to improve inclusion and equity along the spectrum of the student experience. The Biomedical Queer Alliance (BQA) is a specific form of support for gender and sexual minority students at the peer to peer level. The BQA is a student led affinity group which is directly funded through the OSA and supported by the OMA.
MA	University of Massachusetts Medical School	QMass is a student interest group committed to making UMMS a more LGBTQIA+-friendly place for students, patients, and community members. We strive to provide resources and community events to build connections, raise awareness, and promote the well-being and acceptance of LGBTQIA+ individuals both within and connected with UMMS.

PA	Drexel University College of Medicine	DUCOM celebrates the richness of diversity and continues to create and maintain a safe, empowering space for all members of our community including our LGBTQ+ staff, faculty, and students. We understand that for many LGBTQ+ patients, interacting with the medical system is fraught with mistrust, discrimination and trauma. In addition to creating an inclusive environment, we are also dedicated to educating well-rounded, fully competent physicians, equipped to provide compassionate, comprehensive care to their LGBTQ+ patients. Through collaboration with our student groups, we've expanded our medical curriculum to include education on taking inclusive, comprehensive gender identity and sexual health histories, and we have small group learning sessions dedicated to practicing these skills and learning more about caring for LGBTQ+ patients. Additionally, the LGBTQ Professionals in Medicine group holds an annual LGBTQ health symposium, and the pediatric OSCE has a transgender patient.
PA	Geisinger Commonwealth School of Medicine	The Center for Learning Excellence, Office of Diversity and Inclusion, and Title IX Resource Officers provide support systems for students of gender and sexual minority.
PA	Lewis Katz School of Medicine at Temple University	Support for Temple's sexual and gender minority students begins on interview day and includes meeting a faculty and student member of the LGBTQ community at Temple. The LGBTQ and Allies in Medicine student group hosts a Welcome Party with LGBTQ faculty, residents, and students from Temple's other health professions schools. Temple is also the proud sponsor of the annual Philadelphia-wide LGBTQ residency forum which brings together students and physicians from around Philadelphia to discuss being LGBTQ in medicine, and what role their LGBTQ status might play in the residency application process. The LGBTQ and Allies in Medicine student group hosts speakers, social events, and tables at Pride and Outfest. The group is involved with community organizations such as Washington West Project and the Mazzoni Center. Students are active in curriculum development to ensure inclusion of sexual and gender minorities and conduct research in LGBTQ Health and Health Education.
PA	Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine	The Office for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion supports two groups that are focused on topics and concerns of the gender and sexual minority community: the staff affinity group is heavily engaged in supporting gender and sexual minority students and engages a broad group of staff and faculty from across the College of Medicine and the health system; the student interest group provides a place for community and support. Together both groups create opportunities for awareness, advocacy and inclusion. The Office for a Respectful Learning Environment and the Office for Culturally Responsive Health Care Education ensure that there are avenues to address any challenges and concerns within the learning environment and curriculum. Trainings are provided to faculty, staff and students regarding issues that are faced by individuals and communities that identify as LGBTQIA+, highlighting practices that foster inclusion and equity.
