| ON | Queen's University Faculty of Health Sciences | MMI (Multi Mini-Interview) and Panel Interview | Interview invitations sent to candidates typically starting in December | The Queen's School of Medicine uses a combined MMI and panel interview in the assessment of qualifying candidates. The goal of using the MMI is to more effectively assess non-cognitive qualities of an applicant, which could include empathy, critical thinking, ethical decision making and communication skills. Selected candidates will be invited to the MMI portion. From the applicants that complete the MMI component, a select number of these candidates will then be invited for a panel interview. | Regional interviews are not available. | At this time interviews are completed virtually. This is reviewed annually. |
